

*It was one of those March days when the sun shines hot and the wind blows cold:
when it is summer in the light, and winter in the shade. ~Charles Dickens*

Prefer Nonfiction? Join the club!

The North Scituate Public Library's newly formed Non-Fiction Book Club will be meeting for the first time March 24, 2010, from 6:30 – 7:30 PM.

We'll be discussing Highest Duty: My Search for What Real Really Matters, by Capt. Chesley "Sully" Sullenberger. To attend please sign up at the Circulation Desk, or contact the Reference Librarian at nick@scituatelibrary.org. Multiple copies of the book will be available to check out and read for the March 24 discussion. We hope to see you there!

Spring Training...

That's the true harbinger of spring, not crocuses or swallows returning to Capistrano, but the sound of a bat on a ball. ~Bill Veeck

It's still a little chilly here in New England, but it's time for baseball to begin. Instead of trying to chase a ground ball in the snow, why not relax and enjoy a great baseball movie? See if you can match the movies to the quotes below.

Bang the Drum Slowly A League of Their Own
Major League Field of Dreams
Pride of the Yankees Eight Men Out
Bull Durham The Sandlot
The Natural

1. "Today, I consider myself the luckiest man on the face of the earth..."
2. "Skip the facts, just gimme the details."
3. "There's no crying in baseball!"
4. "How's your wife and my kids?"
5. "You just got lesson number one: don't think; it can only hurt the ball club."
